Boseok Kim

Faculty of Education, University of Cambridge

EDUCATION

2023 – present	PhD in Education, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom Passed with Minor Corrections Thesis title: From Sensing to Responding: The Lived Experience of Gratitude in South Korean Adolescents Supervisor: Ros McLellan, PhD; Advisor: Hilary Cremin, PhD
2021 – 2023	MA in Education (specialisation: Educational Psychology), Seoul National University, Republic of Korea Supervisor: Jongho Shin, PhD Grade Point Average: 4.2/4.3
2018 – 2021	BSc in Psychology and Education, Aberystwyth University, United Kingdom Upper Second-Class Honours (69%), accredited by the British Psychological Society

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2026 — Research Assistant, Faculty of Education, University of Cambridge

- Contributed to the development of an AI hub for Peace Education.

2026 — Doctoral Researcher, THRiVE, University of Cambridge

- Delivered a Faculty Talk Series session on human thriving in education.

2025 — Visiting PhD Researcher, Social Learning and Development Lab, Department of Psychology, Seoul National University

- Supported project setup and preparation for a multimethod and multimodal longitudinal study of parent-adolescent interactions.

2022 – 2023 — Research Assistant, Centre for Learning Science and Creative Talent Development, Seoul National University

- Contributed to research planning, conducted data analyses and prepared project briefings.

2022 – 2023 — Research Assistant, Centre for AI-based Education, Seoul National University

- Supported the development of an AI-enabled learning platform.
- Contributed to research informing a multimodal AI agent-based teaching and learning support system.

PUBLICATIONS

Peer-Reviewed Journal Articles

Kim, B., & Jeong, Y. (2026). Developmental Trajectories and Prospective Associations Between Life Satisfaction and Perceived Parental Autonomy Support During Adolescence. Journal of Adolescence.

Kim, B., & Shin, J. (2025). School Adjustment Moderates Character Strengths Interventions in Korean Elementary Schools. International Journal of Applied Positive Psychology, 10, 68.

Kim, B., & Shin, J. (2024). Students' Strengths Use and Engagement: Exploring the Mediating Role of Basic Psychological Needs. Cambridge Educational Research e-Journal, 11, 129–142.

Working Papers

Kim, B., & McLellan, R. (Accepted, Cambridge Journal of Education). Developing the STARR Framework of Gratitude Among South Korean Adolescents.

Kim, B., & McLellan, R. (Revised and resubmitted, Journal of Adolescent Research). Exploring Gratitude Experiences Among South Korean Adolescents.

Kim, B., & McLellan, R. (Revised and resubmitted, AI & Society). Can Generative AI Cultivate Gratitude?

Kim, B., & McLellan, R. (Under review, Asia Pacific Education Review). From Receiving to Responding: A Phenomenological Study of Gratitude in Korean Middle-School Students.
Kim, B., & McLellan, R. (Under review, Journal of Educational Psychology). Parental Autonomy Support, Parental Control, and Academic Helplessness: Stable Family Differences and Within-Adolescent Dynamics.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

2025 – present	Undergraduate Supervisor, University of Cambridge • Delivered sequences of up to eight individual and small-group supervisions for undergraduates from first year to final year.
Jan 2026	Guest Contributor, MEd in Transforming Practice, University of Cambridge • Delivered a postgraduate session on gratitude research in cross-cultural contexts and the educational use of artificial intelligence (AI).
Mar – Dec 2022	Instructor, Seoul National University • Delivered two semesters of a compulsory undergraduate English course.
2022 – 2023	Programme Instructor, Seoul National University Community • Developed, delivered, and evaluated an educational programme for primary-school students.

TALKS, SEMINARS AND CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

Talks and Seminars

Jun 2026	Gratitude and education. Research Day with Harris Manchester College, University of Oxford, hosted by Homerton College, University of Cambridge.
May 2026	Gratitude as a lens for Korean relational life. 2026 Cambridge Korean Studies Workshop, Department of Korean Studies, University of Cambridge.
May 2026	Designing gratitude education for wellbeing. The Curriculum Forum, Cambridge University Press & Assessment.
Apr 2026	Gratitude as relational awareness. THRiVE research group seminar, Faculty of Education, University of Cambridge.
Jan 2026	Thrive. The Faculty of Education Talk Series, University of Cambridge.
Jul 2025	Exploring the lived experience of gratitude among Korean middle-school students. Social Learning & Development Lab, Seoul National University, South Korea.

Selected Conference Presentations

Jul 2026 (scheduled)	Understanding gratitude through an emic lens: Implications for education. 31st International Congress of Applied Psychology (ICAP), Florence, Italy.
Sep 2025	The STARR framework of gratitude. Psychology of Education Section Annual Conference 2025, British Psychological Society, Milton Keynes, United Kingdom.
Jul 2025	Exploring gratitude among South Korean middle-school students: Implications for the educational use of AI. 25th ICER, Seoul National University, Republic of Korea.
Jun 2024	Practising strengths, weaknesses, or both: Where should education head? JURE 2024, EARLI, University of Sevilla, Spain.

SELECTED AWARDS, SCHOLARSHIPS AND FUNDING

2025	Excellent Paper Prize, National Youth Policy Institute
2024 – 2025	Faculty of Education Fieldwork Funding, University of Cambridge
2023 – 2026	Homerton College Research Funding, University of Cambridge
2022 – 2023	Postgraduate Academic Scholarship, Seoul National University
2018 – 2021	Dual Scholarship for Academic Excellence, Aberystwyth University

REVIEW EXPERIENCE

International Journal of Applied Positive Psychology; Cambridge Educational Research e-Journal

Cambridge Educational Research e-Journal

JURE (European Association for Research on Learning and Instruction, EARLI); British Psychological Society (BPS) Conference; Kaleidoscope Conference, University of Cambridge